The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Happy New Year!!

A Los Angeles man attending a party celebrating the holidays, argued that he could down a fifth of Scotch in one fell swoop.

He did!

He carried it out to the lawn and then proceeded to drink it down—gurgle after gurgle.

After he collapsed he was carried to the hospital where he succumbed—a tragic end to a holiday party.

A local bar habitue was not particularly saddened by the outcome.

"What a way to go!" he opined seriously.

A One House Difference

hen Judge Robert O. Staniforth tossed out the October 5 for new supervisorial districts last week, a pretty good ca ate for Henry Boney's office went down the drain with the ash water.

The candidate, Retired Sheriff's Deputy Lt. Bill Clements had quietly gotten all of his ducks lined up after Boney announced he would not seek re-election.

Clements, now general manager of the San Diego County Sheriffs' Association, is well known in the country areas having served both east and north county during his 25 years on the force.

Because there was no incumbency, Clements' supporters felt he had a splendid chance for election. He had gathered a rather formidable group to support his campaign and he had the commitment of sizeable amounts of money for his race.

Judge Staniforth's decision knocked the props out from under Clements's campaign—at least for the present.

The big difference then became one of incumbency.

knocked Clements's house out of Boney's district to a on just one house inside Harry Scheidle's who will run incumbent.

changed Clements's campaign outlook from probable r in the Second District to improbable in the Third. It changed his mind about the race.

He's not going to run it!

Man's Song Sung

On occasion a guest editorialist is invited to share his thoughts in this column. In this one, Superior Court Judge Byron F. Lindsley, takes an interesting view of the ecological situation.

Judge Lindsley, one of the highly respected judges to occupy a Superior Court bench in San Diego, frequently puts his thoughts on paper, but, to the loss of the public, files them away, never to be disseminated. At our insistence he gave permission for the publication of this one—one he refers [illegible] as "ecological musings".

Man is perhaps the most perversely destructive parasite nature has produced.

That is not to say nature produced man to be inherently that way.

The role is one man has, by some degree of choice, assumed for himself. He consumes the resources of the earth, the atmosphere about the earth, the flora and fauna on the earth — and in a myriad of ways he even consumes himself. While other species of life consume for the survival of immediate life and at most for the survival of the species, man acknowledges no such limit. He also consumes whatever and wherever he chooses, feeling free to do it for comfort, for fun and recreation, and even for curiosity.

He also consumes for no other supportable reason than to consume. Most remarkably, he consumes to destroy.

Man consumes men and societies of men. He does it wilfully, physically, emotionally, culturally, politically, economically and militarily.

Nature in its normal process does not consume nature w[illegible]ut beneficial reciprocal compensation. In terms of the li[illegible] of the planet, its resources and its inhabitants, consumption is a necessary positive balancing process. Man chooses to operate outside of this process. He alone has set himself above Nature. He consumes though he knows, whether he chooses to think of it or not, that there will be no positive reciprocal balancing effect from so much that he does.

The physical earth, revolving in its orbit, will go on. It [illegible] not, however, continue to support the life now known, if [illegible]eed it continues to support life at all. Man himself will be [illegible] beneficiary of his own profligacy.

As only parasites appear capable of doing, man seems bent upon consuming himself into possible extinction by voraciously destroying his only real means of subsistence — the environment nature has put before him.

Perhaps the law of natural compensation is really working. Man will then have been paid in kind.

The balance will have been met.

The planet Earth is very old
Mankind is very young
Because of man the Earth grows cold
Man's song of life is sung.

Tonner Named To Head OTD-CoC Dinner Affairs

George Tonner, a long-time Lemon Grove resident, has agreed to serve as chairman of both the Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner in March, and the Old Time Days Kick-Off Dinner in May.

Both events will be held at the L.G. VFW hall, he said.

Tonner, a ship repair estimater for National Steel, said that he planned an entertainment personality for both events. He said that Frankie Laine, the vocalist had a commitment in Hawaii and couldn't be present to star at the OTD affair.

The Chamber dinner, booked for March 25, is already scheduled with cocktails at 6:30; a buffet dinner at 7:30 and entertainment at 8:30. Bob Mills, who heads two KOGO television features daily, will act as master of ceremonies, Tonner said.

The May OTD affair will be a dinner-dance with entertainment between dance sets, he said. A celebrity of Laine's prominence will be obtained, he said.

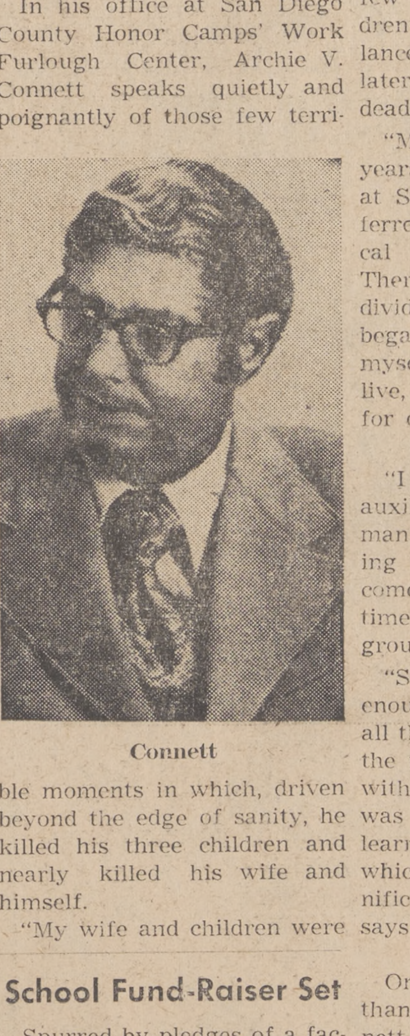
Ivan McDermott is OTD president; Bob Russell is president of the Chamber.

LOCAL SNOWMAN — Things were pretty warm in Lemon Grove last week for this snowman, who appeared in town after low temperatures and stormy weather brought snow to the mountains. The cool character was put together by Donna, Diana, and Don Jackson, of 3239 Kempf st., who together with some friends brought a pick-up load of snow to the address. An overnight low of 37 degrees Thursday preserved the creation, but a high of 56 degrees that afternoon melted it down somewhat.

Paroled Murderer Becomes Correction Counselor With County Honor Camps

A paroled murderer, now holding a County civil service appointment as a correctional counselor, is helping other about-to-be-released offenders in San Diego find the way back to rehabilitation and meaningful life.

In his office at San Diego County Honor Camps' Work Furlough Center, Archie V. Connett speaks quietly and poignantly of those few terrible moments in which, driven beyond the edge of sanity, he killed his three children and nearly killed his wife and himself.



Connett

"My wife and children were my little world," Connett relates. "When, after many months of tension and a year of estrangement, it looked as if I were to lose them finally and completely, it was as though something burst deep inside me. It was all over in a few moments. My three children were dead; if the ambulance had come a few minutes later, I would also have been dead.

"My final sentence was 10 years-to-life. After two years at San Quentin, I was transferred to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville. There, during five years of individual and group therapy, I began to understand and find myself. I began to want to live, to create, to do something for others.

Auxiliary Therapist

"I became something of an auxiliary therapist, the lead man in the psychological testing section. People began to come to me for help. At one time I had three therapy groups.

"Suddenly there were not enough hours in the day to do all the things to be done — all the reading, writing, working with individuals and groups. I was on a new frontier — learning and doing things which gave meaning and significance to my existence," says Connett.

1968 Parole

On June 30, 1968, after more than 15 years in prison, Connett was released on parole. The next day he joined the staff of the Western Behavioral Sciences Institute in La Jolla. Scientists at WBSI are convinced that offenders should be involved to the full extent of their capacity and competence as resource persons in the study of criminal justice problems.

For the past three years, much use has been made of Connett as a resource person. He feels that working with research scientists, agency officials, committees and offenders has given him an opportunity to assess the local criminal justice scene, to establish rapport with the people connected with it.

Becomes Teacher

Connett has presented papers at national and regional conferences contributing to understanding the needs of the offenders and methods of rehabilitation. For three semesters he taught "The Prison Community" at San Diego State College; at present he is teaching a new course, "Utilizing Ex-Offenders and Community Volunteers in the Rehabilitation of Offenders." He has served as consultant to community groups and the Federal government, and on three major committees on corrections.

Civil Servant

Now Connett is nearing the end of his second year as a correctional counselor for the San Diego County Honor Camps. His appointment, through the regular County civil service screening and processing, marked a real breakthrough for an ex-offender.

Working closely with Superintendent Lee F. Bennett at the County Work Furlough Center in San Diego, he serves as program director, chairman of the early release committee, chairman of the adjustment committee, and supervisor of the Honor Camps post-release program.

School Fund-Raiser Set

Spurred by pledges of a faculty willing to teach without pay for the first year, a county-wide fund drive is being opened to provide the operating budget for a third campus of the California School of Professional Psychology in San Diego.

James A. Howard, Ph.D. has been named Coordinator for Finance, and will head the drive to raise money for a library, equipment, classroom space rental, and student loan funds, Dr. Maurice J. Zemlick, Associate Dean CSPSD said other schools are in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

New Sunday Format

A new Sunday worship format will be in effect at the Lemon Grove United Church of Christ, Congregational, when the congregation meets January 9.

At 10 a.m. a 45-minute family worship session will take place, with church school for youngsters through kindergarten. Following the service, a 45-minute worship session will be held for all adults and children, according to Rev. Fred Bradley, pastor of the church.

Adult discussion groups at the church will be led by Dr. Jerry Legerton and Rev. Bradley.

Violations Cited in County Supervisorial Redistricting

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County Supervisors violated the county charter, state law, and federal constitution in drawing up new boundaries for their districts, Superior Court Judge Robert Staniforth ruled last week. They had redistricted the county in a 3-2 decision on Oct. 5.

As a result, Lemon Grove, and part of Spring Valley reverts to the district of Harry Scheidle, if the opinion stands. However, an appeal may be sought.

Re-districting, required after each quadrennial census, also violated the requirement that two districts shall have no population whatsoever in the City of San Diego, the judge held.

The ruling was more stringent than county charter held even before the Oct. 5 re-districting in which Scheidle and Jack Walsh were the dissenters.

Rancho Bernardo, San Ysidro, Nestor and Otay must be in a city district — probably Jack Walsh's — which would still stretch his district to the border, a matter which he complained about in setting up the re-district suit.

Judge Staniforth admitted that his decision "might have created some problems".

Supervisors are in a quandry as to their future actions and don't expect to be able to reach any decisions for about 10 days but they will have to resolve their own problems without the aid of a re-districting commission. The latter group has completed its chore.

Registrar of Voters Charles Sexton said his office must have some kind of boundaries by Feb. 14, the day when candidates for supervisor can take out applications to run. A Chula Vista candidate could run against Walsh, and a Santee candidate could seek Henry Boney's seat under the Oct. 5, plan — but not under the judge's order.

The new plan must be adopted by Jan. 12. Law requires changes in district lines to be completed 120 days before the close of voter registration for the June elections.

County counsel held that Supervisors had the power to re-district so long as they met the primary state legal requirement of equality of population in each district.

The judge opined that "the excess of voters, deferment of voting rights, derived from a desire to introduce a political concept into the Supervisors' representation in the county."

The shifting population, the judge said, was "grossly disproportionate to the number of voters" required to achieve parity and that no "compelling interest" had been shown.

Bill Thomas, administrative assistant for Henry Boney, said Monday that supervisors are standing on their plan.

The judge questioned the integrity of the boundaries which existed before Oct. 5, Thomas said. "Therefore we can neither go back nor forward before the Jan. 12 deadline.

He said that at least one supervisor held that the court's action takes re-districting out of the supervisors' hands. "If the court can overturn our district, what end is served by trict equality?" the supervisor said.

Sheriff Seeks Suspects In Park Robberies

Sheriff's Deputies this week were searching for two men believed responsible for two mobile home park robberies over the weekend.

According to Sheriff's reports, the first of the robberies occurred Saturday evening at the Lakeview Manor Trailer Park, 9902 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, where the suspects escaped with over $200 in cash.

According to reports, the robbers, both white males in their 20's, knocked on the door of the managers at about 8:30 p.m. January 1, demanding to know where the strong box was. One of the robbers carried a small caliber handgun.

After taking about $155 from the office cash drawer and about $70 from the couple, the bandits tied up the manager and his wife with some short pieces of rope and leather and fled the scene.

The Sheriff's Department gave the following descriptions of the robbers: the first is in his 20's, about 6-2, medium build, with dark hair and ankle-high boots. The second, also in his 20's, 5-9, heavy build, dark hair, wearing a blue bandana about his face. The first suspect carried the handgun.

An instant replay of the first robbery was staged Monday night at the Rancho Jamacha Mobile Estates, where the bandits made off with nearly $400.

According to Lyle Fitch, manager of the second trailer park, the two men first requested directions before forcing their way into the Fitch mobile home, which the suspects searched, collecting about $200.

After collecting the cash, one of the suspects accompanied Fitch to the park office, where $100 from a cash box was taken, and $81 was stolen from the park's club fund.

Finally, Fitch and the robber returned to the Fitch trailer, where the suspects tied him and his wife, disconnected the telephone, and fled.

Base Price Lists To Be Posted

Southern California retailers were reminded by the Internal Revenue Service this week they must now have their base price lists on display.

The Price Commission's requirement that base price lists be posted became effective January 2, after a long extension.

"A base price is the highest price permitted for a given item during the 90-day freeze. Generally, this is also the highest price charged for that item in at least 10 per cent of the transactions between July 15 and August 14, 1971," John Ader, IRS Assistant District Director for Stabilization for Southern California, said.

"Every retailer must display his base price list prominently in each department of his store," Ader said.

"Base price information must be openly available to the public. This means the requirement is not fulfilled if a shopper can only obtain access to the information by requesting it from the retailer or one of his employees," he said.

Dear Editor:

Chalk up another monumental failure for Foreign Aid. The U. S. State Department's mistaken theory that India was the keystone of Asia resulted in pouring more than $8 billion, American money, in assistance of all sorts into India.

This sad country consists of the world's most unfortunate mixture of the worst elements of Socialism and Capitailsm, often masquerading as a democracy while enjoying the friendship of the Soviets on one hand and accepting American aid on the other.

Indira Ghandi, the perennially professional pacifist, the hypocritical adjurer of force, self-proclaimed heir of Mahatma Ghandi (the preacher of non-violence) went on the warpath killing her neighbors! Her present military move may have been to call attention away from her country's never ending economic nonsuccess. She probably feels secure because of her recent Security Alliance with Russia without which the present war wouldn't have been possible or ever have happened.

This Russia-India Treaty provides not merely for consultations if "either party . . . (is) subjected to attack or threat thereof" but for "appropriate effective measures (i.e. war) to insure the peace and security" of both nations.

The United States has very sensibly halted the $87.6 million recent Foreign Aid "giveaway" to India. It's about time too!

The United Nations couldn't even stop this sad little war. The U.N. is a dismal failure and should be written off along with Foreign Aid.

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley,

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Sacar" is an interesting word. It is used to suggest many varied ideas and meanings ranging from "bring out," "take out," to "withdraw." This may be seen in expressions like "No me gusta sacar dinero del banco." (I do not like to withdraw money from the bank.), "Ella no le gusta sacar la comida." (She does not like to take out the food.), and "Ellos van a sacar sus fuerzas." (They are going to bring out their power.).

"Sacar copia" means "to make a copy." This expression may be used in phrases like "Voy a sacar una copia." (I am going to make a copy.), "Hay que sacar muchas copias de esta carta." (It is necessary to make many copies of this letter.), and "No tengo que sacar una copia." (I don't have to make a copy.).

"Sacar el jugo" literally means "to take out the juice." However, the idiomatic meaning is more frequently used and is translated "to squeeze out the juice." For example we may say "Ellos van a sacar el jugo de las uvas." (They are going to squeeze the juice out of the grapes.), and "Me gusta sacar el jugo de las naranjas." (I like to squeeze the juice out of the oranges.).

"Sacar la cuenta" is translated "to figure out the bill." We may use this expression in phrases like "Es dificil sacar la cuenta." (It is difficult to figure out the bill.), "No pueden sacar la cuenta." (They can not figure out the bill.), and "Voy a sacar la cuenta." (I am going to figure out the bill.).

"Sacar en claro" suggests "to clean up" or "come to a conclusion." This may be seen in phrases like "Vamos a sacar en claro este estudio." (We are going to come to a conclusion with this study.), and "Van a sacar en claro este punto." (They are going to clear up this point.).

County Clerk Job Is Open

San Diego County is taking applications for the job of County Clerk. The job pays $24,420 a year, but there's a catch: whoever is appointed must also run for election in June.

The vacancy arose when former County Clerk R. B. "Bud" James was appointed as coordinator of the County's new Law and Justice Agency. His deputy, Jesse Osuna, was then appointed as acting County Clerk.

County Personnel Director Clayton G. Swanson said applicants will be screened by a special examining board consisting of the presiding Judge of the Superior Courts, Joseph A. Kilgarif; County Administrator Fred J. Morey; and the President of the San Diego County Bar Association Robert G. Steiner.

The board will submit the names of the top three candidates to the County Board of Supervisors which will make the appointment.

Applications close January 11 and the appointment is expected by early February.

Christmas Seal Campaign Lags

The 1971 Christmas Seal Campaign is lagging behind the 1970 appeal according to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andrews, Campaign Chairmen of the San Diego and Imperial County Tuberculosis and Respiratory Health Association.

Regardless of whether the situation reflects the current economic recession or a reevaluation of personal priorities the activities of the association will be seriously curtailed unless the campaign reaches its goal of $250,000.

Activities such as emphysema rehabilitation programs, physical conditioning classes for asthmatic children, breathing tests for senior citizens and services to TB patients stand to be affected.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews last week urged local citizens to contribute to the Christmas Seal Campaign, pointing out, 'By supporting Christmas Seal program against emphysema, tuberculosis, air pollution and smoking, your tax-deductible contribution becomes a vital force for good health."

Deductible Part Of Medicare Hiked To $68

Patients entering a participating hospital under the hospital insurance part of Medicare, will now be responsible for the first $68 of the hospital bill, according to William W. Brees, social security district manager.

Brees said that under the Medicare law, the deductible must be adjusted to keep the amount in line with the average cost of one day's stay in a hospital. The increase from $60 to $68 is the result of a review of hospital costs during 1970.

Medicare will pay for all other covered charges for the first 60 days in the hospital after the deductible is met.

"Because of the increases in hospital costs," Brees said, "three other increases in the amount patients pay under the Medicare hospital insurance program are required."

For the 61st through the 90th day in the hospital, the

At Bank of America you're assured of both. We guard your money with everything Bank of America stands for. Some call it stability. We call it financial knowledge tempered by experience.

Good times or bad, Bank of America quietly piles dollar on dollar in your account. And your money's there when you want it. We can't think of an easier way to make money short of a windfall from a rich uncle.

We have several savings plans. Each pays a good return, depending upon how long you want us to safeguard your money.

At Bank of America, the biggest threat to your principal is your own withdrawal. Why not open an account with us? Even if it's only a few dollars, safety counts.

Families Adopt Older Children From S.D.

Forty families from outside San Diego County adopted local older children in 1971 because families were not available for them here according to Jane Redwine, Chief of Adoption Services of San Diego County.

Miss Redwine said, "Families came from as far away as New Hampshire to meet and take home their children."

"Agencies cooperate with each other on a nationwide basis," she said.

When either a family or a child is not available in a local community, the adoption agency will see if one is available through another licensed agency. Such inquiries are usually made through adoption exchanges such as the Adoption Resource Exchange of North America or the Adoption Resource Referral Center in Sacramento.

Placements are then completed by the two agencies working together in spite of distance and minor variations in practice.

"We now have 56 children between the ages of seven and twelve ready in San Diego County for adoptive parents. We are continually increasing our services to older children, and consequently are in need of more parents for them," Miss Redwine said.

Local families interested in the older child are given priority over families requesting infants. Social workers meet with every family interested in adopting older children to discuss each familiy's individual situation. There are no set requirements for such families, and no obligation to continue after talking to the agency.

New Giraffe On Display at Zoo

It took a big stork to deliver the San Diego Zoo's last baby of 1971 — a six-foot, 140-pound baringo giraffe calf named "Chester", which arrived at 4 p.m. December 17.

The gangly youngster was put on public display last week for the benefit of holiday visitors. He has been housed with his mother, Checkers, in a "maternity ward" behind the giraffe exhibit area.

Keeper Walt Bromley, whose duties include the giraffe compound, reports that in just two weeks Chester has gained 20 pounds and grown four inches.

"He is gaining well and will grow rapidly in weight and height until maturity, when he may be more than 18 feet tall and weigh 2500-3000 pounds," he said. Checkers gave birth to another male, Black Jock, in 1967.

UTILITY TRENCH — Workmen from the San Diego Gas and Electric Company were at work on Main st. in Lemon Grove this week digging trenches and installing pipes for utilities, which are going underground.

'House Of Blue Leaves' Due On Old Globe Stage

The Old Globe Theatre, having obtained the rights to "The House of Blue Leaves", has announced that the play, replacing the scheduled "Signpost to Murder" opened January 4 on stage at the theatre.

"The House of Blue Leaves" was selected as the best new American play of the 1971 season by the New York Drama Critics. Performances are scheduled nightly except Monday through February 6. Two Sunday matinees will be presented January 9 and 23.

Believing he will achieve instant success as a song writer, a Bronx zoo keeper determines to abandon his past life and take his girl friend to Hollywood.

The time of decision is the same day the Pope visited New York in October 1965. Overlooking the disappointments of his life, the optimistic song writer cheerfully schedules his departure.

Plans are interrupted by the arrival of his Army son on a destructive binge, three nuns trying to see the Pope, a former Hollywood star and a big-time Hollywood film producer. As the unusual group of people become involved, unpredictable comedy ensues mixing with the real drama of life.

Gerald Nawrocki will play the leading role of the frustrated song writer prepared to abandon his family, while Gertrude Waggaman will play his demented wife and Serena Pratt is his frivolous girl friend. Don Sparks will be the rebelious son, Kathleen Bishop is the film star and John E. Ferguson is the movie producer.

Others in the cast include Antoinette Abbott, Tina Deane, Carol Roche, Dan Kauffman and Joe P. Harris.

PLASTIC PIPE — Plastic pipe is used to protect electric wires from water and corrosion when utilities are undergrounded. The San Diego Gas and Electric Company, complying with the wishes of the Board of Supervisors, is installing an underground utility system on Main st.

Main St., Imperial Go 'Underground'

Overhead utility lines along parts of Imperial ave., Main st. and Broadway in Lemon Grove are getting the "underground" treatment.

Lines which now threads carelessly through gently swaying palm trees from poles which angrily pear the air will be no more soon.

The San Diego Gas and Electric Company, through an arrangement with the county which calls for the undergrounding of utilities in parts of Lemon Grove and other communities, is building a new underground system in Lemon Grove which will bring electricity, gas, and telephone service to businesses here.

The area where the work is being done is along Main st. and Imperial ave. from North ave. to Broadway, as well as a short portion of Broadway.

In creating the systems, the workers first dig trenches, then establish a system of moisture-proof plastic pipe along the trench. After the system is complete and the trench re-graded, electrical and telephone wires are installed in the pipes.

When connections are made through special transformers and hook-ups, and customers are wired into the system, the overhead wires are removed and the old poles are taken down.

The old poles are re-used, if their condition is good enough, according to Carl Welti, of SDG&E.

Cost of the project, which is to be completed late in April, is about $75,000 to SDG &E , Welti said, with some additional costs charged to property owners where service will be changed. The costs to property owners will be for changes in hook-ups, which are different for the underground system.

Arrangements have also been made between the telephone company and SDG&E, since telephone lines are also put through the new system.

Regular SDG&E service crews are used to do the necessary work, Welti said.

A birth defect research grant has been awarded by the March of Dimes to the University of California at San Diego Medical School in the amount of $60,000.

PATCHWORK — After trenching and installing the utility system, workers must leave the road in a drivable condition, which calls for replacing the earth and re-grading the strip, which runs from North ave. to Broadway. Completion of the current project is expected sometime in April according to a spokesman for SDG&E.

TO BE WED — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Damberger, of 2720 Olive st., Lemon Grove, announce the engagement and anproaching wedding of their daughter, Teresa Elizabeth, to Howard C. Hoover, Jr., of La Mesa.

A 9:30 a.m. wedding is planned January 22 at Saint John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove, with a reception to follow at Los Novios Chapel of the Sweethearts in La Mesa. The newlvweds will reside in Pacific Beach.

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of columns prepared by the Drug Education For Youth organization. Its purpose is to inform readers of trends in drug use and abuse, drug research information, and the hazards in the misuse of drugs.

Are Barbiturates Addictive?

Nearly everyone knows what a barbiturate is. Few people realize how physically addictive they are when abused. Physicians prescribe them to relieve anxiety or nervous tension or to induce sleep. This category of drugs includes Seconal or "reds," Tuinals or "tunnies," Phenobarbital or "phennies."

Barbiturates — Can You Mix Them

Is it dangerous to combine barbiturates or tranquilizers and alcohol? Yes! Don't mix them. Medical research has proven that alcohol, barbiturates or tranquilizers increase the effect of each other in a way that is impossible to predict. The person who is drunk and takes sleeping pills may not survive. Barbiturates when taken with narcotics, anesthe and tranquilizers may also be fatal.

'Kicking' The Barbiturate Habit

Is it possible to "kick" the barbiturate habit? Yes, but not suddenly. Barbiturates are physically addicting for chronic abusers. If barbiturate dependence is severe, sudden withdrawal from the drug is an acute medical emergency requiring hospitalization and intensive care. Let a physician advise you. Actually, withdrawal from barbiturates can be more dangerous than from heroin.

THE ROAD TO VICTORY — Mike Rhoades works for the pin in semi-final action in the Grossmont College Tournament. Rhoades didn't get the pin in this match, but managed a big win enroute to claiming the 127-lb. class title in the tournament. Rhoades, of Mt. Miguel, was one of two Matadors to get individual titles.

Monarch Wrestling Team Wins Grossmont Tourney

The Monte Vista wrestling team, looking in top form, ran off with the annual Grossmont College Invitational Tournament last Thursday when four Monarchs won individual titles.

Monte Vista racked up 112 points during the day-long tourney, as an expected battle between Monte Vista and defending CIF Champion Mount Miguel never developed.

Mt. Miguel managed 69 points enroute to second place, but a slow start and a jumbled lineup put the Matadors out of contention early in the contest.

Individual winners from Monte Vista were David Brodwolf in the 120-lb. division, Robbie Hudson, in the 133-lb. class, Matt Taylor in the 145-lb. class, and Dan Fluery in the 154-lb. division.

With the exception of Taylor's win, which was a 3-2 decision in overtime, all of Monte Vista's winners claimed their victories in convincing fashion. The most convincing was Hudson's 20-3 victory.

Adding to Monte Vista's point total were three second place finishers. They were Randy Fleury in the 95-lb. class, Gary Uyeda in the 138-lb. division, and heavyweight Mike Pettijohn.

Mount Miguel's big point makers were Mike Rhoades, who went all the way in the 127-lb. class, and Miguel Cesena, who surprised the competition in the 138-lb. class.

Cesena, who showed up overweight after too much holiday dinner, was forced to wrestle above his weight, but still managed to surprise Monte Vista's Gary Uyeda in the finals, 5-3.

Mt. Miguel's lone second place finisher was Wayne Allen, who was beaten in the finals of the 175-lb. class.

Winners in the consolation bracket included Mt. Miguel's Jim Minor in the 95-lb. class, Miguel's Dave Rower in the 145-lb. class, Monte Vista's Steve Meyer, in the 191-lb. class, and Mt. Miguel heavyweight Joe Morgan.

Both Mount Miguel and Monte Vista will have easier competition when the Grossmont League season resumes tomorrow night. Monte Vista will host Granite Hills at 8 p.m. while Grossmont invades Mt. Miguel at the same time.

For both teams, the matches will serve as tune-ups for the "big one" January 14 when the Monarchs visit the Mt. Miguel gym in a match that will probably decide the league title.

Packed High School Sports Schedule Set

By John Nicholson

There's plenty of action on tap this week on the prep sports scene, including eight basketball games, six soccer matches, and five wrestling matches involving Grossmont League schools. Here's when and where, alng with who will win:

Soccer

All soccer matches are at 3 p.m. and picks are by one goal unless otherwise noted.

Fallbrook at Grossmont Friday. Grossmont has shown little strength on the year, but Fallbrook hasn't fared much better. The Grossmont defense has improved enough to rate the game even.

Granite Hills at Bonita Vista Friday. Both teams have suffered from a lack of scoring, but the Granite Hills defense seems slightly stronger, so the Eagles get the nod.

Mt. Miguel at Morse Friday. Mt. Miguel gets a chance to do some scoring in this game against the weaker Tigers. Matadors by two or three goals.

Grossmont at Clairemont Tuesday. Grossmont will have a slightly weaker opponent here than Fallbrook, but the Foothillers still don't quite rate the win. Call it even.

Sweetwater at Granite Hills, Tuesday. The Red Devils have had some problems with their schedule thus far on the year, but should get in the winning column big against Granite Hills. Sweetwater by two goals.

Mt. Miguel at Montgomery Tuesday. Montgomery has the stingiest defense in the county and Mt. Miguel hasn't shown too much offense blast as yet. Tipping the scales further for Montgomery is a powerhouse crew of goal scorers. Mt. Miguel's only hope is a good defensive effort which could bring the Matadors a tie. Montgomery by a goal.

Basketball

El Cajon at Helix tomorrow, 8 p.m. Helix is back on the winning track again and looks more than ever like the class team of the county. El Cajon will have trouble making fifth in the league. Helix by 16 points.

El Capitan at Santana Friday 8 p.m. Santana has come along surprisingly well, while the Vaqueros have had their good and bad games. No upset here, however; El Cap by ten points.

Mt. Miguel at Grossmont, tomorrow, 8 p.m. Here is another upset tempter, as Mt. Miguel is ready again with Tim Miller back in uniform, and Grossmont has had injury woes. Resisting the temptation, Grossmont by 12.

Monte Vista at Granite Hills tomorrow, 8 p.m. These two teams met about two weeks ago, and the Eagles ran all over the Spring Valley bucket brigade, claiming a 24-point victory. The wiser Monarchs will be ready this time, but still it's Eagles by seven.

Santana at El Cajon Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. Santana gets a good shot at the win column against the Braves in what will be an excellent game. Santana by four points.

El Capitan at Monte Vista Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. Monte Vista draws another tough foe in this one, as El Cap looks more and more like the second place team. El Cap by nine.

Grossmont at Helix Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. Many fans think this game could turn out to be the battle for the league crown, but disagreement must be voiced. Helix, with the inside track to the title, will hand the 'Hillers a 12-point setback.

Granite Hills at Mt. Miguel Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. The Eagles, in another rematch, baffled the Matadors in the first meeting two weeks ago with a half-court press. It won't happen again, but the Matadors still can't match the Granite Hills shooting. Eagles by three points.

Week-end Games Can Move Gulls Into Second Place in WHL Play

The San Diego Gulls, unbeaten in the New Year, face a pair of tough challenges this weekend as they host the Portland Buckaroos on Friday evening at the Sports Arena, and take on the Denver Spurs Saturday night.

The weekend doubleheader gives the Gulls a good opportunity to close some ground on league-leading Denver and second-place Phoenix. The Gulls entered this week's activity trailing Phoenix by only three points.

The Gulls enter tomorrow's (Friday's) game with one loss in their last five games, and a two-game winning streak. In their last five, the Gulls have two ties and a pair of wins.

Against Portland, San Diego holds a 4-2 edge in the series. The Gulls have a 2-1 record in both San Diego and Portland and have won three straight games over the Buckaroos.

Earl Heiskala is the leading scorer in the series with nine points on three goals and six assists. Gerry Goyer has five goals and eight points, while Rich Van Impe leads Portland scorers with a goal and six assists for seven points.

Ken Broderick has a 3-1 record against the Buckaroos, and a 2.40 average in four games.

In the series against Denver, the Gulls trail 2-3-1. San Diego has a 2-1-1 record on home ice and has lost both of its Denver appearances so far this season.

Bob Courcy is the leading scorer in the Gull-Denver series with seven points on four goals and three assists. Milan Marcetta leads the Spurs with a goal and five assists for six points, while Ron Buchanan has four goals. Brian Glenwright and Fran Huck have five points apiece.

Huck started this week's action with a 22-game scoring streak, one short of the Western League record. The Spurs have one game — at Salt Lake tonight (Thursday) — before playing the Gulls, so Huck could be shooting for an all-time WHL record against San Diego.

In last week's action, the Gulls won two and tied one in four games. They started the week on Wednesday night,

Matadors Set For Battle With Grossmont Foothillers Tomorrow

By Paul Stark

The Mount Miguel Matador basketball team faces a monumental task tomorrow night when the Matadors invade the Grossmont High School gym at 8 p.m. for a contest against the giant Foothillers.

It'll be Grossmont's height against the quick shooting of Mt. Miguel in the Matadors' toughest match of the young season.

Grossmont will have the Matadors out-inched by six inches at center, where Ralph Drollinger, at an even seven feet tall, will mismatch Steve Ayres, who is Mt. Miguel's tallest at 6-6.

A slightly lesser advantage will be in evidence at the forward positions, where Miguel's 6-3 pair, Mark Dobransky and Brent Brown, will duel Mike Robertson, 6-5, and Bob Gunderson, 6-4.

Mt. Miguel guards Tim Miller, at 5-10, and Mike Bruner, at 5-11, will give away inches to the Foothiller gunners Craig Stevens and Dan DeKock, both six-footers.

The meeting with Grossmont will serve as a test for two problems Mt. Miguel has been trying to solve during the non-league season. They are a lack of rebounding and poor defense under the basket, which has allowed too many layups this year.

Grossmont is expected to pick up many of its points from inside shooting and rebounding, and Mt. Miguel will try to even things with the fast break and the evil shooting eye of one Mark Dobransky.

Secondary to which team wins the ball game will be the contest between the league's two top scorers, Drollinger and Dobransky.

Drollinger tops the county with a 29 points-per-game average, while Dobrasky has been hitting about 24 tallies per game. The disadvantage Mt. Miguel will see in height, however, could cause Dobransky to do more shooting, and a good battle could ensue.

Grossmont, one of the county's top teams with an 12-3 record, will be in its second league contest, having beaten Granite Hills Tuesday in the loop opener.

Mt. Miguel has had its problems winning, owning only victory over El Cajon, a team the Matadors entertained Tuesday to open the league campaign. The Matadors have lost ten times this season, but the recent return of star guard Tim Miller will aid the local team in its quest for a finish in the upper division of the league.

Camera enthusiasts will aim their lenses at a dozen beautiful and curvaceous models posing against backgrounds of the two cable cars, tramway mountain lodge and valley station facilities — and more than 15 inches of snow which now covers the ground. The tramway's topmost station is located at the 8,500 foot level of Mt. San Jacinto State Park.

Photographers who register and enter prints in the photo contest will vie for a total of $125 in savings bond prizes awarded by the tramway for most imaginative shots.

Marilyn Visel, director of Palm Springs Models agency, is in charge of providing models for the event which attracted nearly 150 photographers last year. Miss Tramway of 1971-72, Sally Anne Rasmusson, 19, of Palm Desert, will also be on hand to act as hostess for models and visiting photographers.

Cameramen will begin gathering at the tramway valley terminal at 9 a.m. on photo day to register to assure their eligibility for all photo prizes. After spending most of the day shooting pictures at both tram stations, contest entrants will ballot to select Miss Winter Photo Day at 3 p.m. at the valley station.

Photos will be judged later in three categories: color prints, color slides and black-and-white prints.

Dr. Hugh Bradner, professor of physics and geophysics at UCSD, will coordinate the series.

Dr. James Brune, professor of geophysics at Scripps Institution of Oceanography will speak on "Earthquakes — Past, Present and Future" on January 10.

Richter, a professor emeritus from California Institute of Technology, and C. Martin Duke, professor of engineering from UCLA, will discuss "A San Diego Version of the San Fernando Earthquake" on January 17.

"Planning and Design in Engineering" will be the topic of Greer Ferver, president of Ferver Engineering Co., San Diego, and George Curtis, a building inspector for the City of San Diego, on January 24.

A panel discussion on "How to Cope on a Personal and Community Level" will conclude the series January 31.

The course will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Humanities-Library Auditorium, Revelle Campus, UCSD. For further information, call 453-2000, ext. 2061.

playing a 1-1 tie with Seattle; travelled to Seattle on Friday night and lost 4-2; beat Salt Lake, 3-1, on the road Saturday night, and came home on Sunday evening and defeated Phoenix, 4-2.

The Phoenix game was a key one for the Gulls. San Diego trailed 2-0 after the first period on a pair of power play goals by Frank Hughes. Dunc McCallum, Earl Heiskala and Al Nicholson scored in the second period and Sandy Fitzpatrick tacked on an insurance goal in the third period.

That was the third game in three nights for the Gulls, who ran their record in the third night of tripleheaders over the past two seasons to 9-1-1.

Aztec Hoopsters Take Aim On 49ers' 20-Game Streak

Basketball Coach Dick Davis will send his San Diego State Aztecs (8-2) against the talented Cal State Long Beach 49ers of coach Jerry Tarkanian tonight at 8 p.m. in the San Diego Sports Arena in the Pacific Coast A.A. opener for both clubs.

Rated nationally in the top 10 by both wire service polls, the Long Beach squad entered the week with a 9-1 record and took on Temple on Tuesday before coming down to San Diego.

"Long Beach is just awesome," Davis said after watching the 49ers demolish UC Riverside 109-85 last week to win the International City Classic. "That's the only way to describe them.

"They are much bigger, faster and more explosive than last year," Davis continued. "They run both man-to-man and zone defenses equally well which really makes it difficult to work out a plan of attack."

The Aztecs will be out to put their name in the record book as a win over the Prospectors would mark the first time the 49ers have been beaten in conference play. Long Beach won the first two PCAA titles with perfect 10-0 records and will enter Thursday's encounter with a string of 20 consecutive league victories.

Statistically, the two squads are quite similar. The Aztecs are averaging 85.0 points a game compared to 89.5 for the 49ers. Both squads also feature four starters in double figures and have one man averaging better than 10 rebounds a game. The Aztecs have a slight edge in rebounding strength despite being a much shorter squad as they have picked off an average of 56.2 rebounds a game while Long Beach is hauling in 52.6.

Top scoring honors for the Aztecs belong to 5-11 guard Jimmy Harris who's averaging 17.6 a game. Chris McMurray (6-7 center) is second with a 16.6 average and 14.0 in rebounding while guard Jimmy Wilkins is averaging 13.4 and forward Jeff Pete is contributing at a 12.2 clip.

USIU Recital Due Sunday

The public is invited to attend a faculty recital Sunday, at 3 p.m. by Mrs. Ermen Moradi, soprano and voice instructor at United States International University's School of Performing Arts.

Early Mariner Lead Too Much For M.V.

By Tom Blattler

Led by forward Pete Weichert's [illegible] points, the Mar Vista Mariners defeated the Monte Vista Monarchs, 70-64, to grab fifth place in the 2nd Annual Baron-Optimist Tournament held at Bonita Vista.

The 6-foot-3 senior canned eight field goals and eight of 12 free throws to be the leading point producer in the contest.

Carl Zemlick, a 6-foot-4 senior, and Rick Baker, a 6-foot-1 junior, each scored 17 points for the losers. Senior guard Mike Moffatt threw in 14 points and sophomore Richard Ridgeway had eight in a reserve role.

Senior Jim O'Brien, a 6-foot-7 center, was Mar Vista's second leading scorer with 16 markers and senior forward Mark Schenewerk showed an excellent outside jump shot and chipped in with 12 points.

The first quarter might well have been the turning point in the game as the Mariners played tough defense and hit their opening shots to lead 16-4 at the buzzer.

In the second period, Mar Vista outscored the Monarchs, 23-20, as Weichert and Schenewerk led the way in the scoring department for the Mariners. Mar Vista led at the intermission by 15, 39-24.

The Mariners were on the verge of making the game a rout in the third period, as they outscored Monte Vista, 25-19, and led by 21 points, 64-43, going into the final stanza.

In the fourth period, the Monarchs came back and scored 21 points to Mar Vista's six. Monte Vista was led by Zemlick and Ridgeway in point producing, but their efforts were not enough to overtake the Mariners.

Monte Vista's sophomore center Bill Bunting hit the boards hard in the game and ended up with 17 rebounds.

The Madison Warhawks won the tournament championship with a 58-50 victory over the San Diego Cavemen. The host team, the Bonita Vista Barons, took third place in the tournament as they scored a 73-70 win over the tough Helix Highlanders.

Along with Weichert and Zemlick, five other players were named to the all-tournament team. They were Jim March of Bonita Vista, Madison's Rock Lee, Willard Scott of San Diego, Helix' Wilbert Olinde, and Jody Schmitz of Fallbrook.

Monte Vista will see more tough competition tomorrow night when the Monarchs travel to Granite Hills, a team that has twice knocked off the local bucketeers.

Granite Hills utilizes a half-court press and a running offense to roll up most of its victories, and the most successful teams against the Eagles have had to break the press with quick passes.

Monte Vista, when hot, relies on a good barrage of outside shooting and good rebounding to produce its points.

Teacher Prep Offers Seniors Chance to Learn

The teacher prep program at Grossmont High School is designed for students who are interested in teaching at the elementary school level. It offers an opportunity to learn, by working with elementary teachers and students.

Steve Thorn, senior, has teacher prep in the third grade at Brier Patch Elementary School. "It gives you a chance to re-live your childhood and to see how much things have changed."

Students spend two periods each school day at an elementary school aiding in the teaching process. They help small groups and individuals with reading, spelling, and math, as well as reading stories to the class, demonstrating problems on the board, and giving tests. They also help with games during recess.

Harold Werner, senior, a teacher prep student at Fletcher Hills Elementary School, describes it as "a lot of fun!"

Students receive a letter grade and ten credits a year for the course. Although teacher prep is limited to seniors, it gives interested underclassmen something to look forward to.

First Recital On Tap Sunday

A series of Sunday afternoon recitals will be presented free to the public by the Music Department at Southwestern College. The first in the series will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. in the recital hall—Room 801.

The program will consist of an hour of continuous improvisation which has been organized by Victor Saucedo, pianist and faculty member at Southwestern College.

Pills Bring Arrest Of Imperial Beach Man

Two seconol capsules in a small pill box were discovered in the pocket of an Imperial Beach man last week as he underwent a routine pat search when Sheriff's deputies arrested the man he was traveling with in Spring Valley.

According to Sheriff's Department reports, a family disturbance call resulted in the stopping of a car which was being driven by the suspect in the family disturbance case. The driver was arrested on an outstanding traffic warrant.

While the arrest was made, a routine pat search for weapons was made on Dave F. Shinaberry, who was a passenger in the vehicle. During the search, the pills were discovered.

State Grant Deadline Near

The California State Scholarship and Loan Commission this week reminded high school seniors that the postmark deadline date for the filing of College Opportunity Grant applications is January 12.

College Opportunity Grants are for disadvantaged students who plan to initiate their college education primarily at a public community college.

New grants are to be awarded to students who generally, though not exclusively, are minority and come from low income families and who are not necessarily able to obtain scholarships by the use of conventional selection methods.

Students who believe they are in need of financial assistance may secure application forms from their high school or the Commission offices in Sacramento.

The Chicago City Council is considering the banning of all traffic, except buses, from some of the downtown area.

Trips, pot luck lunches, and a variety of programs are also planned.

Pillow Firm To Pay Fine

A Houston, Texas, pillow manufacturer must pay $1,050 in civil penalties and has been permanently restrained and enjoined from advertising, labeling, offering, selling, or distributing pillows in California unless such advertising and labeling is true.

The Department of Consumer Affairs filed a complaint with the San Diego County District Attorney's Office after laboratory examinations by the Bureau found that pillows advertised by the Perl Pillow Company, were mislabeled as to content and in addition, did not meet California's cleanliness requirements.

Classes which will be offered include acrobatics, ballet, art, baton, drama, hula, jazz, pre-school tap dancing, tennis, karate and table tennis. Classes will begin January 31.

Bowlers To Aid March of Dimes

Bowlers of San Diego and Imperial Counties will battle birth defects in a unique way January 10-15, when they take part in the annual March of Dimes campaign with a special competition in the ninth frame of each league game, according to John Lyons, March of Dimes Bowling Chairman.

"The ninth frame will be the March of Dimes frame," Lyons said. "If a bowler gets a strike, no donation is asked. If he gets a spare, he is requested to contribute a nickel and if he misses it will cost a dime."

The activity, not an extra tournament, is a fund-raising project to help maintain the Salk Institute and to provide medical service at two local birth defect centers.

Birth defects are the nation's second greatest destroyer of life, killing an estimated 500,000 unborn babies and more than 60,000 of our infants, children and adults each year.

College Teams To See Action Over Weekend

Both Grossmont College winter teams will be ready for action this weekend for important contests, as the wrestling crew is scheduled to participate in the Fresno Tournament, and the basketball team is set for an encounter with Saddleback College.

After opening the Mission Conference season Wednesday against Riverside, the Griffin wrestlers were among the favorites in the Fresno tourney Saturday.

Last season, the Griffs shared the conference crown with Riverside after spending much of the year in second place before capturing the conference tourney.

Following the tournament, the Griffs will return to league action against co-conference favorite Palomar College.

Michigan tree farmers harvested about five million Christmas trees in 1970.

Animal Stars From Television Due At Zoo

Animal stars from the movies and television will be performing at the San Diego Zoo beginning this weekend.

The animals are the charges of Ted and Pat Derby, husband-and-wife trainers. Their entourage will include 700-pound Rijo, the largest Siberian tiger in captivity and star of the Enco Oil "tiger in your tank" commercials; Chauncey, the Mercury automobile cougar; and Nehani, a Canadian timber wolf who has appeared in "Lassie" and "Gunsmoke."

Also accompanying the Derbys will be Clyde, a jaguar, veteran of "Lassie" shows and Kal-Kan pet food commercials; Sweet William, an American black bear who has been seen in "Land of the Giants," "Wonderful World of Color" and "The Love Bug"; a black panther; and a spotted leopard.

The Derbys will present two 20-minute shows each day in the seal bowl at 1 and 2 p.m. They will repeat the performances the weekends of Jan. 22-23 and Jan. 29-30.

"Ted and Pat Derby were the featured attraction at the annual meeting of the Zoological Society last year," said society president Anderson Borthwick, "and they were a great hit with our members. So we wanted to bring them back to present their animal shows for the general public."

Consumer Affairs Agency Handles 9,000 Complaints

Over 9,000 consumer complaints were received by agencies within the California Department of Consumer Affairs during one three month period, it was revealed in a report released by the department this week.

The department is required by law to report to the Governor and the Legislature in December each year concerning its activities on behalf of consumers. The 109-page document is the first report of the new agency.

Department Director Donald G. Livingston, in releasing the report, stated, "I hope that this report will be a window through which everyone may understand the multifaceted programs that the administration has undertaken on behalf of California consumers."

Livingston helped plan the formation of the new department during the time he was an administrator in the former Department of Professional and Vocational Standards from 1967 to 1969. He served as Assistant Secretary of the Agriculture and Services Agency prior to his appointment to his present post in October 1971.

The massive complaint handling data in the report covered the period from July 1 through September 30. It reported that the Contractors' State Licensing Board received a notable 5,570 complaints during the period. The Bureau of Repair Services, which investigates consumer complaints about T.V. Repair Services, handled 601 complaints during the period.

The department's Division of Consumer Services, which receives and processes consumer inquiries and complaints in generally non-regulated areas, reported that it processed 8,636 items of consumer communications during the first 10 months of the year.

Cash, TV Taken In Spin Inn Burglary

Bill's Spin Inn, 3645 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, was burglarized early Tuesday morning, with the burglar escaping with $80 in cash and a television set.

Entry was apparently made through an office window at the local cafe, which was discovered broken at 3:30 a.m.

The burglar was discovered inside the restaurant by a janitor, who was reporting to work. The burglar, however, fled the scene at that time, and no description was available.

The money was taken from the cash register.

Youth Arrested On Pot Charge

A 17-year-old Spring Valley youngster was arrested at 10:50 p.m. January 2 on charges of possession of marijuana when the illegal weed was found during a search of his person.

Reports from the Sheriff's Department indicated that the youth was first arrested when he was observed near a closed business in the Casa de Oro area for a curfew violation.

A subsequent search for weapons revealed a clear tobacco pouch containing a small quantity of what appeared to be marijuana, an additional clear plastic bag containing more of the contraband, as well as three hand-rolled cigarettes, believed to contain marijuana.

Wrestling Tourney Set

The City of San Diego Recreation Department and the San Diego Jr. Wrestling Association will host a novice wrestling tournament January [illegible] at the Memorial Recreation Center, 29th and Marcy st., San Diego.

A turnout numbering 125 participants is expected at the event, which is open to any boy 15 years of age and under who has not placed first, second, or third in any previous novice or open tournaments.

Weigh-in is from 7:30-9:30 a.m., match time 10 a.m. Medals for first, second, and third place, and a ribbon for fourth, will be awarded.

Tax Break Measure To Help Seniors

"California's modern day pioneers received worthy and overdue recognition with passage of the expanded senior citizens property tax assistance legislation," according to Richard Nevins, State Board of Equalization Chairman.

Now homeowners at age 62 with a total household income of $10,000 or less are eligible for property tax assistance. Senior citizens will still pay property taxes, but upon proper filing will now receive refunds up to 96% on a sliding scale based upon the larger allowable income.

Under the previous law, maximum allowable income was $3,350 with the age minimum set at 65.

Nevins, who is also a Member of the Franchise Tax Board, commended the State Legislature for passage of the landmark legislation, adding that the measure "culminates my 10-year effort to bring recognition to the need for senior citizen property tax assistance, and to bring it up to a realistic level."

Tax refund payments under the new law will begin next July 1, and will apply toward taxes paid in December of 1971 and in April of 1972.

The filing period for refund claims begins May 16 and will continue through October 15. Notices regarding the expanded tax assistance program will be sent early this year by the county assessors with homeowners exemption claim forms.

Cooking Class Is Scheduled

The La Mesa Recreation Department will offer a course in Mediterranean gourmet cooking during the spring semester, it was announced this week, and registration will open January 10.

Due to participation required by students in the class, enrollment will be limited to 12 persons, according to Skip Fenn, of the department.

Registration may be made between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the La Mesa Recreation Center Office, 8440 University ave. from January 10 to 21.

Dishes to be taught include those from France, Greece, Armenia, and Arabia.

JURY SERVICE — Zillah Curtis, left, Deputy Jury Commissioner, and Lawrence M. Adams, San Diego County Jury Commissioner, check a certification list of prospective jurors. Names are chosen by computer from 4,750 jurors will be certified and will serve 4,750 purors will be certified and will serve on juries this year.

35,000 Registered Voters To Have Opportunity For Jury Duty

"If you are a registered voter in San Diego County, you have one chance in 16 of having the opportunity to serve on a jury," according to Lawrence M. Adams, San Diego County's Jury Commissioner.

"This year 35,000 names were selected from among the 570,000 registered voters; we will need more next year with the opening of the County's new Superior Court in Vista," he said.

The names of all registered voters are on a magnetic computer tape. Once each year the Commissioner decides how many jurors will be needed. The computer is programmed to choose every fifteenth or sixteenth name, whatever the necessary proportion; then it selects and prints the names and addresses on prepared form letters.

The form letters request prospective jurors to report to the Commissioner's office for a personal interview. Mailing is spread out over the entire year, over 100 going out each day. They are sorted by zip codes, and the girls mailing them are careful to make a proportional selection from all areas each day.

Adams said that only about 5,000 of the 35,000 actually serve as jurors. Many are exempted for one reason or another.

Certain occupations may be exempted by law such as medical personnel, members of the armed forces on active duty, lawyers, clergymen, public officials, railroad employees, mariners serving on board a ship, and teachers. Other people are excused for reasons of health or extreme financial or personal hardship.

Although all states have jury service, there is a great deal of variety in exemptions. Consider the newspaper field. Arizona exempts newspaper editors, New York exempts newspaper editors and employees, North Carolina exempts printers and linotype operators, and Texas, newspaper publishers.

In some states, women may not serve at all; in others they may serve if they wish; in still others, California included, they must serve if called. Some states have age restrictions for jurors: these vary. In four states, the minimum age for jurors is 25 years.

To qualify in California, jurors must be registered voters, able to understand English, and, as of March 4, be 18 years of age or older. These factors, as well as whether they are physically competent to carry out their duties, and decisions about hardships, are determined at the time of the personal interview before certification.

When certified to a court and called for duty, the prospective juror reports to the juror's assembly room where all receive a short indoctrination on the rights and duties of a juror. He may or may not serve on a trial this first day.

Jurors are expected to serve 20 days over a three-month period. For this, the County pays $5 a day and 15 cents a mile one way.

The Superior Court uses jurors from all over the county in its San Diego courtrooms. The San Diego, El Cajon and North County Municipal Courts use jurors from their own judicial district only, as do justice courts in Coronado, Boulevard, Fallbrook, National City and Ramona.

Jurors are certified to a specific Court, but in San Diego County Courthouse, one court may loan jurors to another. Sometimes the Superior Court has a surplus while the Municipal Court runs short. Thus when a juror reports for duty, he is never sure what the day will bring.

In Superior Court, the jurors are concerned with civil suits over $5,000, criminal felonies, juvenile cases, and appeals. Juries in Municipal Court are involved in traffic, misdemeanor and civil cases up to $5,000. County taxes pay for around 500 jury trials in Superior Court and 700 in Municipal Court each year.

FEATURED SKATER — A San Diego skater, Ray Balmer, is featured in several productions of Holiday on Ice scheduled for the Arena for eight performances Starting January 18.
As an amateur, Balmer won many titles and was a member of the U.S. World and Olympic teams when he turned professional.
Tickets are scaled from $3 to $5.50 with a special priced Scout performance Jan. 21. Tickets are available now at the Arena. The show closes Jan. 23.

Orientation Set For Tomorrow

Judges of the San Diego Municipal Court, under the Chairmanship of Judge Earl J. Cantos, will tomorrow conduct a semiannual orientation program for newly admitted attorneys in San Diego County.

The State Bar of California twice yearly examines attorney applicants. This day-long program was first initiated in 1958 and introduces new attorneys to some of the practical problems connected with their new careers.

Attorneys from Lemon Grove are Stuart D. Gilbert and Al Smithson.

Great emphasis is placed upon practical needs, with talks by judges, attorneys and various agency or department heads relative to day-by-day operational problems. Additionally, the new attorneys receive kits of material including Superior and Municipal Court forms, copies of Local Rules of Court, Probation memoranda, and other useful documents. The program follows a breakfast hosted by the Barristers' Club and continues throughout the day.

Farmers in the vicinity of Gilroy, Calif. produced 73 million pounds of garlic in 1970.
